Editorial Review

Review

"The Dramatists Guild Resource Directory<sup>TM</sup> is a valuable, useful tool for any dramatist at various stages of their careers. From submission opportunities to practical advice on securing an agent or a template for formatting your script, the Resource Directory is an essential guide that should be on every writer's bookshelf."

– Doug Wright, Contemporary playwright

"The most comprehensive and useful directory for playwrights. All you need to know and more. Very well organized, described and arranged. And to think, you get it free with your membership in the Guild. What a bargain!"

- Julie Jensen, Contemporary playwright

"The DG Resource Directory<sup>TM</sup> is an essential tool for any playwright, from the novice to the experienced. It is user-friendly and complete... no playwright should be without it."

- Rebecca Gilman, Contemporary playwright

"I can't imagine anyone writing for the theatre who won't find it useful bordering on essential."

- Jeffrey Sweet, Contemporary playwright

"The annual Dramatists Guild Resource Directory<sup>TM</sup> is the one - perhaps the only - indispensable guide I recommend to all practicing and emerging playwrights"

- Michael R. Weller, Contemporary playwright

"The Guild's annual Resource Directory<sup>TM</sup> is the premiere dramatist's handbook and an essential key to success."

- Bobby Lopez, Contemporary playwright

"Everything a serious writer for the stage needs to know, all in one place: The DG Resource Directory<sup>TM</sup>."

- Rajiv Joseph, Contemporary playwright

"A great all-in-one directory ... an invaluable resource for writers!"

- Benj Pasek and Justin Paul, Contemporary playwrights

"The DG Resource Directory<sup>TM</sup> is a fantastic, user friendly source of submission and career development opportunities for all playwrights."

- Stephen Karam, Contemporary playwright

"The DG Resource Directory<sup>TM</sup> is one of the many truly useful tools the Dramatists Guild provides for its members."

- Lisa Kron, Contemporary playwright

"Google's got nothing on this thing--it's the only search engine you'll ever need! The Dramatists Guild Resource Directory<sup>TM</sup> is custom-fitted for playwrights, so it's the most convenient and efficient way to find opportunities. You might even be able to work on a script with all the time you save using it."

- Chisa Hutchinson, Contemporary playwright

From the Back Cover

The Dramatists Guild Resource Directory is the only annually printed reference guide containing opportunities for playwrights, composers, lyricists and librettists. Indexing allows for an easy search through awards, grant, fellowships, theaters, emergency funding and more. This year's directory features articles on agents, The Road Less Traveled (dramatists recalling unconventional paths to productions), and an excerpt from the forthcoming A Dramatists' Guide to Self-Production.

About the Author

The Dramatists Guild of America was established over eighty years ago, and is the only professional association which advances the interests of playwrights, composers, lyricists and librettists writing for the living stage. The Guild has over 6,000 members nationwide, from beginning writers to the most prominent authors represented on Broadway, Off-Broadway and in regional theaters.

The Guild is governed by a Board of Directors elected from its membership, and which currently includes such writers as Stephen Sondheim (West Side Story, Gypsy, Into the Woods), Edward Albee (Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf, A Delicate Balance), Marsha Norman (Night, Mother), Tony Kushner (Angels in America), John Patrick Shanley (Doubt), John Guare (Six Degrees of Separation), Lynn Nottage (Intimate Apparel) and Rebecca Gilman (Spinning Into Butter). The current president of the Guild is Stephen Schwartz (Wicked, Pippin, Godspell). Past presidents have included Richard Rodgers, Oscar Hammerstein, Moss Hart, Alan Jay Lerner, Robert Sherwood, Robert Anderson, Frank Gilroy, and Peter Stone. Past Guild members have included Eugene O'Neill, George S. Kaufman, Arthur Miller, Lillian Hellman, Frank Loesser, Frederick Loewe, and Tennessee Williams.

The Dramatists Guild of America was established for the purpose of aiding dramatists in protecting both the artistic and economic integrity of their work. The Guild believes that a vibrant, vital and provocative theater is an essential element of the ongoing cultural debate which informs the citizens of a free society. The Guild believes that if such a theater is to survive, the unique, idiosyncratic voices of both men and women who write for it must be cultivated and protected.

To that end, the Guild maintains model contracts for all levels of productions, (including Broadway, regional and smaller theaters) and encourages its members to use these contracts when negotiating with producers. These contracts embody the Guild's over-arching objectives of protecting the dramatist's control over the content of his work, and ensuring that the dramatist is compensated for each use of his work in a way which will encourage him to continue writing for the living stage.

In addition to its contract services, the Guild acts as an aggressive public advocate for dramatists' interests and assists dramatists in developing both their artistic and business skills through its publications, which are distributed nationally, and the educational programs which it sponsors around the country.

Through a variety of activities, the Dramatists Guild of America works to ensure that theater in America will continue to flourish and that the voices which give it life will continue to reflect and celebrate the richness and diversity of the American experience.
